Dear Roy

Re. Letter of reference

By way of this letter I wish to express my gratitude on behalf of Child Find to you and your participating staff members Lyle Beckman and Dan Wilder. With your generosity and the support of these two specialists Child Find has been transformed into an efficient and effective office with workstations and service upgrades , never before imagined.

You will recall Roy on that September evening in 2001 while listening to me explain the role of Child Find and the shortcomings of our computers and software and the general problems facing our volunteer staff with training due to budget restraints, that you were quick to respond with, "my company can help". Having said that you immediately made a short term commitment to Child Find for the installation of computers, software, training and technical support by your staff at no cost to our organization. I was inspired by your sincerity and generosity and the manner in which you made your offer to assist Child Find. I was most impressed however by the time line schedules and the actual installations which were done in a very professional manner on schedule with little office interruption. Your recommendations as to the programming and service provider was implemented and has been working well exceeding our expectations. The help line you had initiated for our use has been exceptional , courteous responses with each inquiry for assistance have been met. The laptop provided enables more access while in the field.

Child Find is a non profit organization registered under the Societies Act of British Columbia. Our main mandate is to locate and reunite missing children with their parent(s) or guardian. Although most cases involve runaway children and parental abduction we do have missing children that vanish without a trace. We also provide free fingerprint clinics for children accompanied by a parent. A photo added to the kit provides parents with a ready available identification source. Many other programs such as Tips For Parents and Legal Guardians , brochures of safety for children and other assistance packages are distributed. Our office has also assisted the Ministry of Social Services (Child Protection) on working files.

We are proud and honor this relationship

The success of our operation is based on volunteers and people like you who care enough to help bring our children home. Thank you for making this difference.
